

Paraphrases:

- a) John wrote a volume of Latin poems for Mary
- b) Armadillos, located in New York, often, with their snouts, destroy old pillowcases
- c) People, carrying boxes of old clothes, lined up behind the door of the building, which has a leaky roof.
- d) That automobile factories abound in Michigan is a great cause of worry for me.
- e) No-one understands the rules – which describe the structure of phrases – explain the phenomenon – which is little understood – of the infinite length of sentences.
- f) My favorite language is a language with two characteristics: morphology which is simple and syntax which is complicated.
- g) The cabinet – which was used for filing and was bright green in color – was filled completely with articles – which were the most boring – from a journal, which was prestigious and was of linguistics, and had a readership which moderately large
- h) The collection, which was of syntax articles, with the cover, which was red, bores students, who study syntax, and who are located in Tucson
- i) Yesterday, the volume of obscene verse – which was red and from Italy – quite thoroughly shocked the soul, which was puritan, of the minister, who had a beard.
- j) The man – who was the biggest in the room – said that on Thursday, from County Kerry to County Tipperary, John danced an Irish jig.

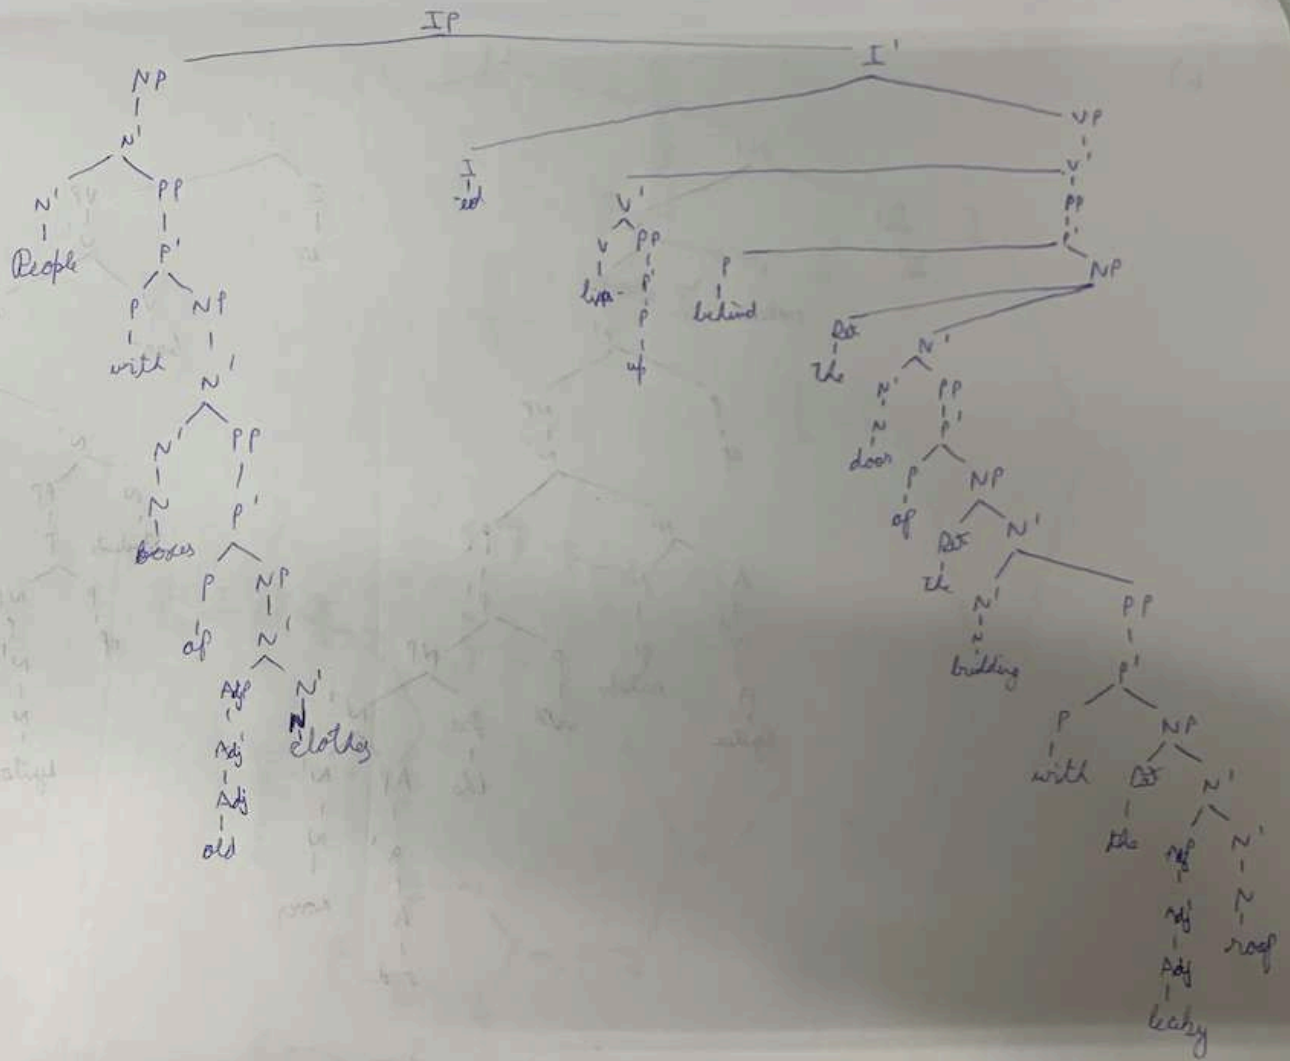

a)

b) c)

d)

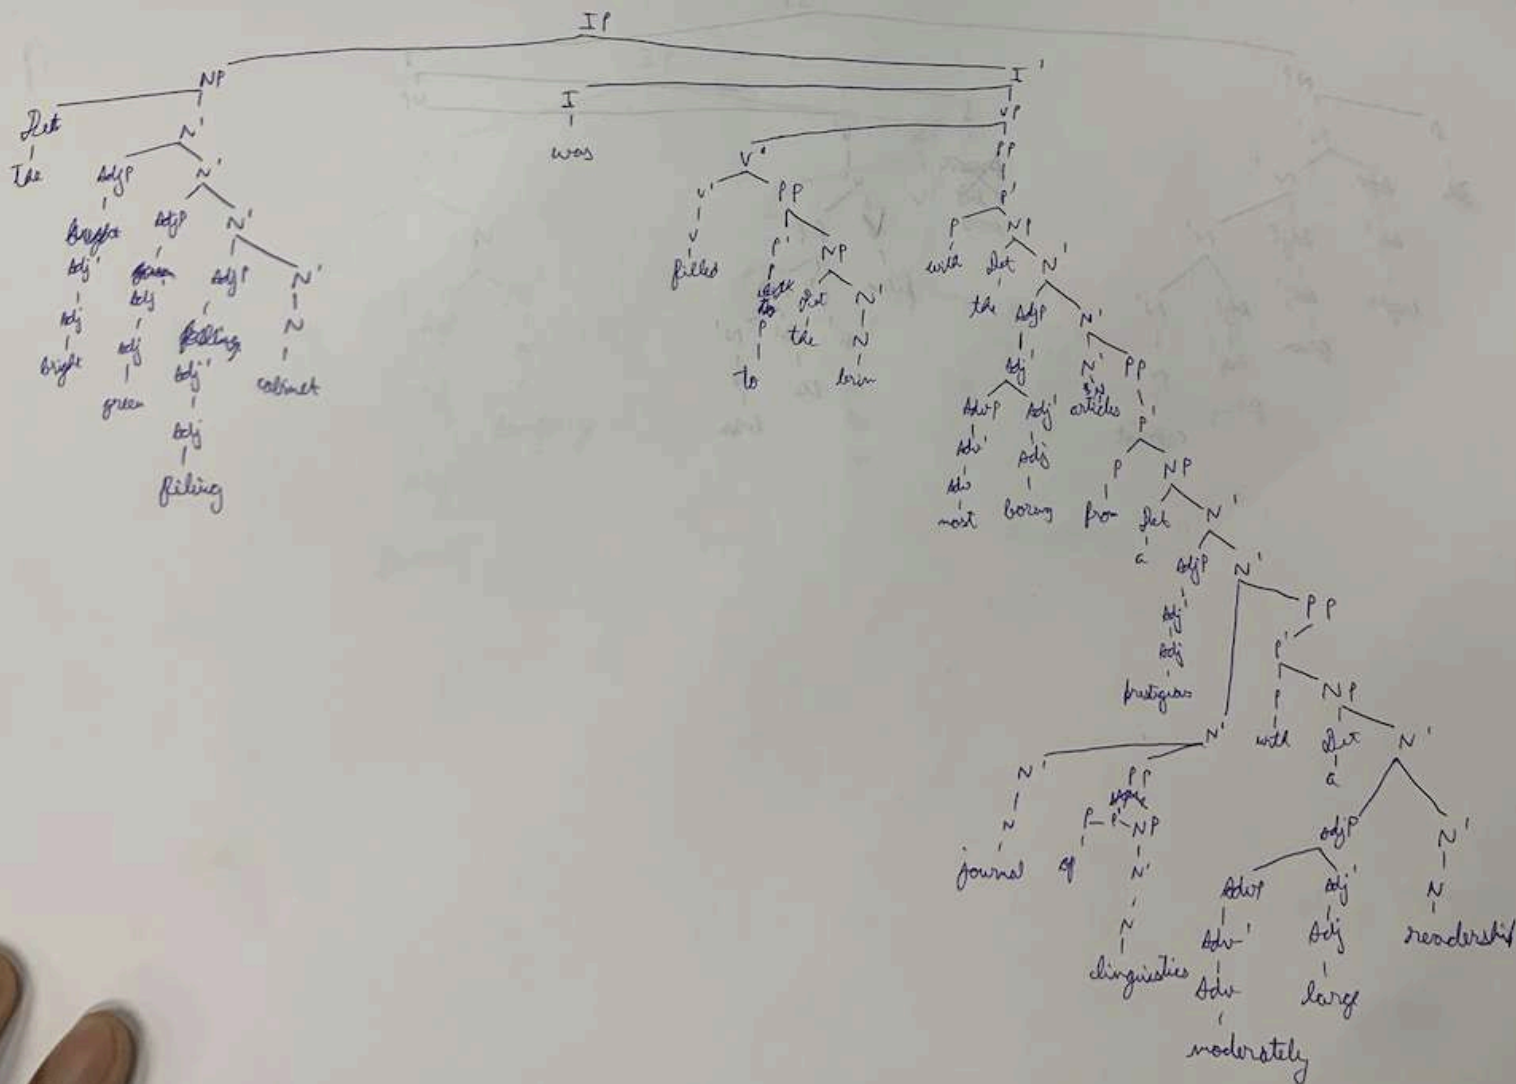

e)

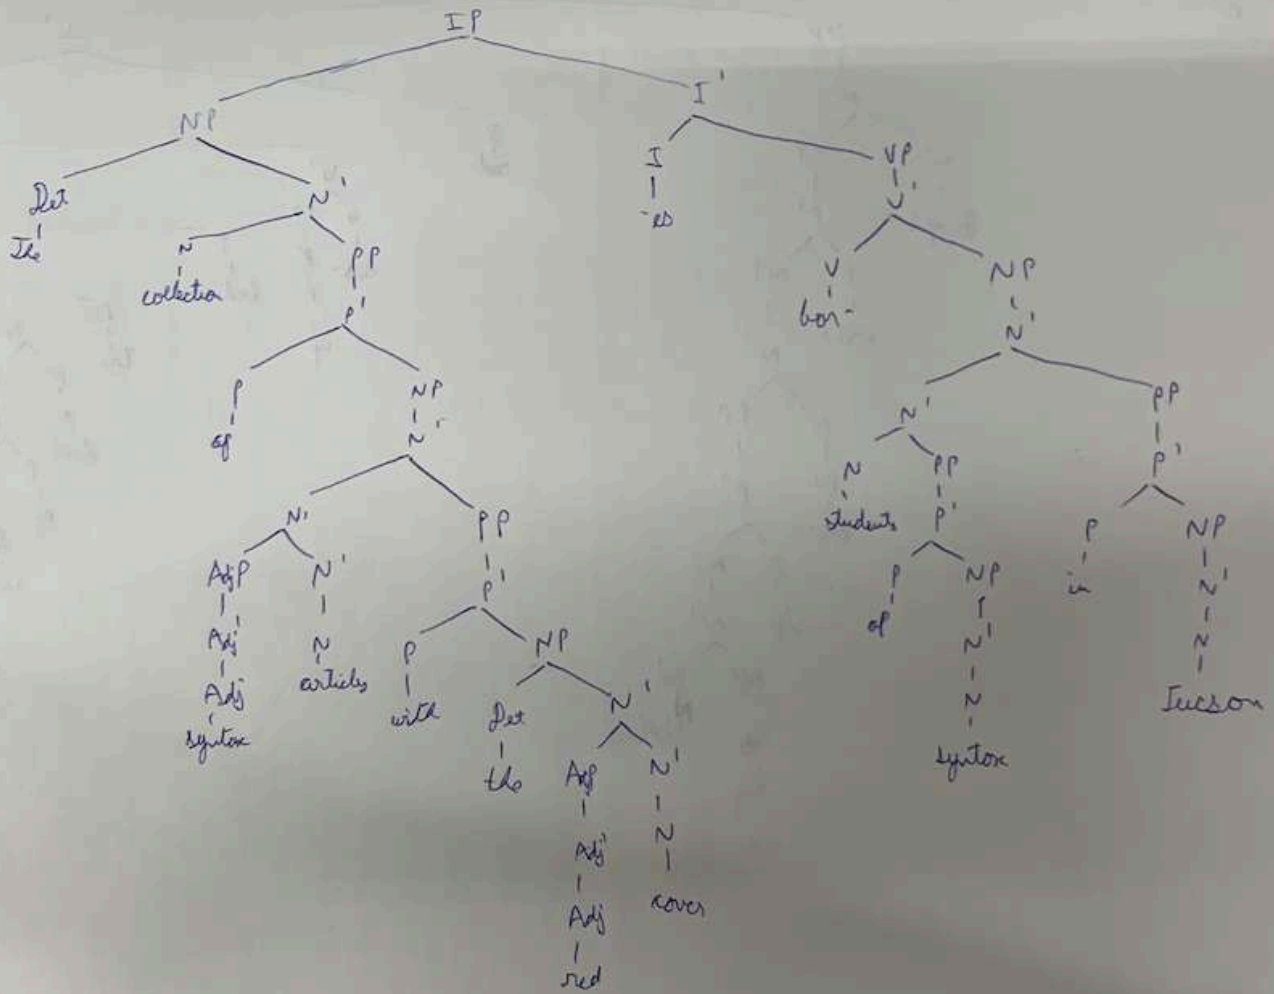

p)

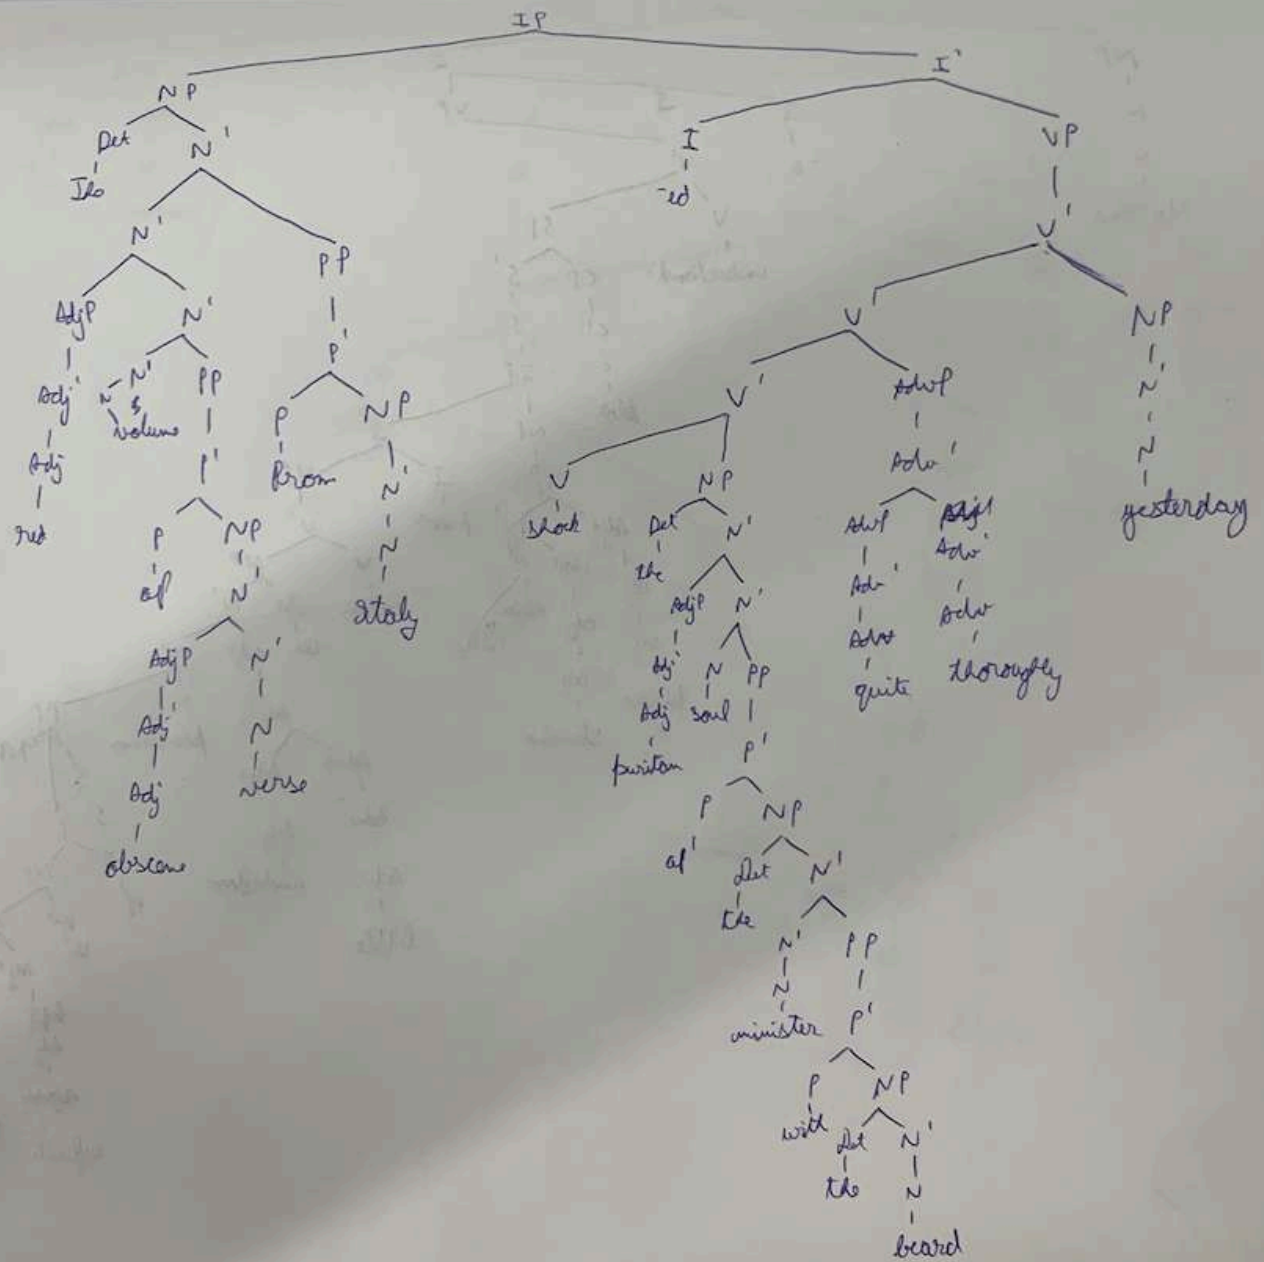

g)

b)

IP

